Way back in c. 500 BCE, Heraclitus, the Greek philosopher, noted that the only constant in life is change. Fast forward to 2022, and this quote still rings true, but the pace of change and perhaps the complexity of change has, well, changed!

Let's kick off the 2022-2023 program year exploring:

"What do we need to do or stop doing to keep up with the pace of change in our organizations?"

Join incoming president, Jessica Fairchild, and fellow participants in an interactive and lively discussion. We will examine this topic from a variety of frames, such as processes, systems, and staffing, as well as learn from each other and create space for approaching these challenges with more creativity and resilience.
